3. Our website

BelgiumSurgeryServices does everything it can within its possibilities to guarantee an efficient operation, a secure browsing environment and a high level of accessibility for its website. However, visits to our site are always at your own risk. This means we cannot be held liable for any direct or indirect damage suffered following the use of our site.

BelgiumSurgeryServices has the right to change, suspend or terminate access to the site at any moment without prior notification.

The content of the website of BelgiumSurgeryServices is regularly adapted and updated. However, it is always possible you may find incomplete or obsolete information on our website. Any resulting direct or indirect damage does not fall under this liability.

If our site contains content that contravenes legal principles, violates the rights of others or is inappropriate, please report it to us. This allows us to partially or completely remove any inappropriate content.

Prices and product information are indicated subject to mistakes of the system: programming and typing errors shall not be considered binding by the user for an agreement.

This website contains information that can be downloaded (texts, photographs, movies, software, etc.). Downloading this information is always at your own risk. BelgiumSurgeryServices is not responsible for any damage to your computer system or the loss of data by downloading this information.

Not only BelgiumSurgeryServices is responsible for this website. Users are also deemed not to behave in a certain way which may be detrimental for the efficient operation and secure environment of our site. This includes damaging programs (such as computer viruses, malware, worms, trojans, etc.) and sending unwanted commercial messages (such as junk mail, spamming, spammy content, chain mail, etc.) via our website. Damage claims shall only be addressed to the user who caused the damage.

4. Links and referrals to other websites

Links to pages of third parties on BelgiumSurgeryServices's site do not fall under our responsibility. This includes hyperlinks, frames, javascripts.

We are not responsible for the secure and correct operation of the linked websites, nor for the content on the websites. This means we are not responsible for any (consequential) damage caused by these websites.

The general terms and conditions of the linked websites may be different and not offer the same guarantees.

5. Intellectual property rights

Both content (text material, blog articles, notes, photographs, drawings, videos, audio fragments, etc) and the technical side of our website are protected by intellectual property rights. Copyright, software right and database right are a non-restrictive list of examples. Any violation of our intellectual property rights shall be prosecuted.

6. Processing and protection of personal data

To be able to follow up your questions and/or orders, BelgiumSurgeryServices needs some personal data. Without your personal data, we are unable to meet your request unfortunately.

BelgiumSurgeryServices processes your personal data in accordance with the provisions in our privacy statement.

7. General provisions:

Our website can be changed, expanded, or terminated at any moment. Visitors are unable to demand damages.

Our general terms and conditions depend entirely on the provisions in the Belgian Legislation. Disagreements are submitted to the competent court.
